A STUDY OF RURAL CREDIT TO THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR AND ITS PROBLEM

Chitrajyoti Ojah

ABSRATCT

Rural indebtedness and dependence on private moneylenders is an age-old problem in India . There is vicious circle of poverty. They are born in debt, live in debt and died in debt. For more than 100 years now, the Central Government and the Reserve Bank of India have been making efforts to enhance institutional credit in rural areas particularly to assist in agricultural operations. It began with the enactment of the Co-operative Credit Societies Act (1904) but efforts were redoubled after the nationalization of Scheduled Commercial Banks in 1969. The aim of this paper is to evaluate the measures taken over the years and assess the extent to which they have been successful. It attempts to answer the question, "Is the agenda of expansion of institutional finance to agriculture unfinished? Are the institutional credit is enough for agricultural development in Rural India. If not then we have to

BETWEEN MYTH AND REALITY: A CRITICAL READING OF MAMANG DAI's THE LEGENDS OF PENSAM

Kalyani Hazarika

INTRODUCTION :

North East Indian Literature is marked by a unique presence of nature and environment. The beauty of the landscape enriched with different species of flora and fauna, mighty rivers, high mountain ranges add on a vibrant culture and tradition existing among the tribal of North East. It shows rich ethnic diversity of the region. The relationship between man and nature in Indian English writing, more specifically from North East, has been depicted by a handful of writers of the region. Mamang Dai's The Legends of Pensam is written in lyrical prose and evokes the memories and beliefs of an entire community of people, especially one concerning the early history of people or explaining a natural and social phenomenon usually involving supernatural happenings or events. It represents the predicaments of the sensitive young minds of the contemporary Arunachal Pradesh. They find difficulty to come in terms with the inevitable break with the enchantment of the past and to re-model their lives according

ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC IN NORTH-EAST INDIA

Marjina Ahmed

ABSTRACT

The corona virus Covid-19 pandemic is the defining global health crisis of our time and the greatest challenge we have faced since World War Two. Since its emergence in Asia late last year, the virus has spread to every continent except Antarctica cases are rising daily in Africa, the America, and Europe. Now, India has worst condition than Italy. It has topped among 9th position. The pandemic is moving like a wave – one that may yet crash on these able to cope. But Covid-19 is much more than a health crisis. By stressing every one of the countries it touches, it has potential to create devastating social, economic and political crises that will leave deep scars. As the UN's lead agency on socio-economic impact and recovery, UNDP will provide the technical lead in the UN's socio-economic recovery,

EFFECTIVENESS OF E-LEARNING AMONG COLLEGE STUDENTS: A STUDY IN GOLAGHAT DISTRICT, ASSAM

Mridula Hazarika

Rinky Sahu

ABSTRACT

At present, E-Learning is the only way to get students connected with their academics as the education sector is adversely harmed and affected due to the infectious and deadly 'Covid-19' virus. This pandemic demands students and teachers to get involved with various means of E-Learning. In this view, the paper seeks to examine the effectiveness of E-Learning among college students of Golaghat District of Assam. This paper also tries to identify the problems of online teaching faced by the college students as well as to provide suitable measures for solving the problems of E-Learning. Descriptive survey method is used
